Dina Silver, MCC Partner, Right Action Summits™

Dina Silver has more than 20 years of coaching and management experience with an emphasis on developing exceptional leaders and assisting them in building high impact, sustainable teams. With a background in the entertainment industry, she is especially effective in helping leaders develop powerful executive presence. One of her greatest strengths is working with technically proficient people to develop interpersonal skills essential to effective and compelling leadership. She also has extensive experience helping individuals and organizations manage through major change.

Experience/Background

Dina currently works with senior executives, executive teams, and senior managers and their cross-functional teams to develop superior leadership skills and nurture sustainable, highly functioning, and enjoyable environments for team members.

Prior to becoming an executive coach, Dina was an award-winning feature film producer. She ran a film company in New York and continued her producing career on the west coast as the creator and producer of a range of interactive educational programs.

Education/Professional Achievements

Dina is a Master Certified Coach (MCC) and is trained and certified in a number of assessment tools including: 360, DISC, PIAV and Hay/McBer Managerial Style Questionnaire (MSQ), and the BarOn EQ-i assessment of emotional intelligence. She is an active member of the International Coach Federation and the Professional Coaches and Mentors Association.

Dina holds a BA in US History from Princeton University. She is an experienced writer and public speaker and leads management development workshops for large organizations. She contributed a chapter on effective leadership to the book Create the Business Breakthrough You Want and has published a monthly coaching newsletter since 2000.

Meet Our Team

Rick Wright, MSW Partner, Right Action Summits™

Rick Wright is an executive coaching and management consultant with more than 15 years of experience. He works with high performance individuals, teams, organizations, and leaders to problem solve issues, increase insight and effectiveness, and implement successful strategies for growth velocity, profitability, and sustainability. He offers executive programs in "Leadership," "Communication," and "Management" tailored to a particular client's culture, diversity, passions, profitability, and business structure.

Experience/Background

Rick's executive coaching is devoted to executive/organizational leadership and change management. He understands the challenges faced by today's leaders and senior managers because he has been there himself—first as a founding business partner and more recently as an executive coach engaged by CEOs and senior executives in the manufacturing, high tech, entertainment, marketing, banking, high-end retail, association, and non-profit sectors.

Previous to coaching, Rick was a founding partner of Boca Counseling Center in Boca Raton, Florida, a full service private practice counseling firm. He has been recognized by the media as one of America's "best coaches," and is a member of "Who's Who in Colleges and Universities."

Education/Professional Achievements

Rick is a graduate of Coach University, a former board member of the International Coach Federation - Los Angeles Chapter, and is a current board member of the Professional Coaches and Mentors Association.

He holds a Bachelor's Degree in psychology, a Masters Degree in social work, and holds numerous facilitation and coaching specialty trainings.

He is a much sought after executive coach and speaker known for his insight, good humor, and ability to engage an audience.
